Ski or Snowboard – why not both? Rameder's towbars for the new Opel Corsa E

The new Opel Corsa E is available in 132 variants, and that doesn't even include the wide range of paints. Rameder, Europe's leading provider of transport solutions, is now adding the 133rd option: a rigid or removable towbar, available at its own online shop at www.rameder.eu. The rigid version has a maximum towing capacity of 1350kg and costs EUR 234, the removable, automatically locking system of 1430kg and costs EUR 368. The vertical coupling load is 55kg in both cases. Both prices include a 13-pin electrical set.

The Rameder towbar hugely increases the Corsa's utility. You can use it to load more luggage when going on holiday, for example, or dispose of a huge amount of compost at the nearest recycling facility. And if you want to take your bicycle with you, why not fix a rear rack to the towbar?! Needless to say that this is also available at www.rameder.eu.
